MA Lun (馬倫), a Chinese Communist Air Force officer, is now supervising the reconstruction of Ch'uchiang (113-33, 24-50) Airfield. He is assisted by a large number of Chinese Communist technicians sent from Canton by Kwangtung Military authorities, as well as Soviet technicians, including Ch'i-k'o-ssu-ohi (契可斯基). Approximately 5,000 civilian laborers are now employed in the construction of a new runway which is to be approximately 10,000 feet long and 150 feet wide.
